Week 7

4 leaf units this week will give you some great practice.

It's been an unusually stressful few weeks around my house, both my kids families tested positive with Covid, but so far my Mom and I have been fine. You've seen the resulting fallout with missing photos of units and /or progress shots, and this week is no different. You'll notice that my Week 7 unit is missing 4 pathway hexagons at the bottom edge. They've been added by now, but it was too late to retake the photo, by the time I noticed.

Hopefully as things relax around here, I'll be more attentive to details moving forward.
